

Deferred Disposition

Deferred Disposition/Probation

Eligibility:

You may be eligible to have your violation dismissed with deferred/probation. The Judge in her sole discretion, may defer disposition on most cases. Generally, the probation period is for 90 days to 180 days. Additional conditions may apply depending on the type of the violation received. If you successfully complete the required conditions, the case is dismissed and no final conviction will be reported.

You are eligible for Deferred Disposition if:

- You have a valid driver's license, CDL holders are not eligible;
- You have not been charged with one of the following offenses:
- Speeding 25 mph over the posted limit
- Speeding at a speed of 95 mph or more
- Passing a School Bus
- Leaving Scene of an Accident
- An offense in a construction zone when workers were present
- An offense in a school zone
- Failure to Give Information at the Accident Scene

If you are under the age of 25, State law requires you that you MUST complete a Driver Safety Course (only course - no driving record) and return the certificate of completion to the court within the deferral period.
